

Name: _____

Date: _____

Mountains – HTML vs. XML

Background:

The Mountain Peak data are displayed below in two different formats – the first is HTML, and the second is XML.

peak	range	state	long	lat	elev_ft	elev_m	prominence_ft	prominence_m	rank
Mount McKinley (Denali)	Alaska Range	Alaska	-151.0063	63.0690	20236	6168	20174	6149	1
Mount Saint Elias	Saint Elias Mountains	Alaska	-140.9264	60.2931	18009	5489	11250	3429	2
Mount Foraker	Alaska Range	Alaska	-151.3998	62.9604	17400	5304	7250	2210	3

```
<mountainpeaks>
  <data>
    <mountains>
      <mountain>
        <peak>Mount McKinley (Denali)</peak>
        <range>Alaska Range</range>
        <state>Alaska</state>
        <long>-151.0063</long>
        <lat>63.069</lat>
        <elev_ft>20236</elev_ft>
        <elev_m>6168</elev_m>
        <prominence_ft>20174</prominence_ft>
        <prominence_m>6149</prominence_m>
        <rank>1</rank>
      </mountain>
      <mountain>
        <peak>Mount Saint Elias</peak>
        <range>Saint Elias Mountains</range>
        <state>Alaska</state>
        <long>-140.9264</long>
        <lat>60.2931</lat>
        <elev_ft>18009</elev_ft>
        <elev_m>5489</elev_m>
        <prominence_ft>11250</prominence_ft>
        <prominence_m>3429</prominence_m>
        <rank>2</rank>
      </mountain>
      <mountain>
        <peak>Mount Foraker</peak>
        <range>Alaska Range</range>
        <state>Alaska</state>
        <long>-151.3998</long>
        <lat>62.9604</lat>
        <elev_ft>17400</elev_ft>
        <elev_m>5304</elev_m>
        <prominence_ft>7250</prominence_ft>
        <prominence_m>2210</prominence_m>
        <rank>3</rank>
      </mountain>
    </mountains>
  </data>
</mountainpeaks>
```